

MAY – TIME OF LOVE IN POETRY

In the Czech Republic May 1st is a national holiday known as Labour day (in Czech: Svátek práce). However, most Czechs regard the 1st of May as the “day of love”. A popular tradition maintained on May 1st in the Czech Republic is to kiss your loved one beneath a blossoming cherry tree. Tradition says that a girl who is kissed under a blossoming cherry tree will remain beautiful all year long.

May Day associates perhaps everyone in the Czech Republic with first verses of the famous poem Maywritten by the Czech Romantic poet Karel Hynek Mácha (1810-1836). The poem presents unfulfilled love and the tragic fate of the robber Hynek and his lover Jarmila. The tragic plot of the poem contrasts sharply with the blossoming nature in the background.

MAY – TIME OF LOVE IN POETRY

May is probably the best known Czech poem about love. To be more precise, about unhappy love. The fact that love is not always just a beautiful and pleasant feeling is emphasized in poem by Patrik Marek, a student of 2.B.

Láska nemusí být vždy hezká Patrik Marek

Psalo se dne prvního pátý,
v tento čas je šťastný každý druhý.

Láska, to je skvělý pocit,
zvyk je jak železnou košili nosit.

Samozřejmost ale lásku ničí,
vztah dvou lidí to ohraničí.

Každý z nás chce zažít lásku,
zneužít ji jak lepící pásku.

Lepící pásku našeho srdce,
nic jiného mi nikdo netvrďte.

Love doesn't ever have to be nice Patrik Marek

It was first of May,
almost everyone is happy in this day

Love, it's a great feeling,
A habit is like an iron shirt wearing

Obviousness destroys love,
it puts borders between us.

Chemistry of love and holding breath
to abuse it like a sticky tape.

The sticky tape of our hearts,
don't tell me any lies.

EARTH DAY - 22ND APRIL

Earth day is an annual event celebrated on the 22nd of April. It helps to protect the planet from things like pollution or deforestation.

We went to pick up some rubbish from the forest park Dubina in Karviná on the 14th of April. We picked up about 20 garbage bags and one tire.

We spent about three hours there and we found some interesting things like a TV, a chair, a radio and many more. It was a great experience and we found out that we should take care of our planet.

LEARNING THROUGH VIRTUAL REALITY

“No notebooks or textbooks. Students at Reddam House School in the UK learn in a virtual reality”

After the coronavirus pandemic, the school introduced virtual reality learning. Students and their teacher simply put on goggles and have everything they need to learn right in front of them. Therefore learning is more funny.

For example, students can travel through time, learn about the anatomy of the human body in 3D space, explore the Earth directly from space or embark on various experiments that would be very dangerous for pupils in real life.

The project plans to expand this method to the whole world. Currently, more than 84 different schools from 24 countries are involved in the project.
