

EASTER TRADITIONS IN UK

Egg Rolling and Easter Bonnets Have you ever heard of “egg-rolling”? It must be quite an exciting game. First people decorate eggs with different colors, then take the eggs to the top of a hill and let them roll down. The first egg to get to the foot of the hill is the winner. Another interesting British tradition is the decoration of Easter bonnets. Some women and girls decorate hats, called Easter bonnets. They put lots of spring flowers on them, and wear them in Easter bonnet parades. Morris dancers In many parts of England dancers called “Morris dancers” perform on Easter Sunday.

These dances are very old spring dances to frighten away the spirits of winter (Morris Dancing is traditionally English). The dancers wear white shirts, red sashes, black trousers and straw hats with lots of flowers and streamers. Red and green ribbons and little bells are tied onto the dancers. As the dancers move quickly the bells ring and the ribbons wave.

EARTH DAY IN OSTRAVA

Earth Day is celebrated annually on April 22 as a global event dedicated to raising awareness about environmental protection and the urgent need for collective action to address climate change, pollution, and deforestation. The origins of Earth Day trace back to 1970, when it was first established in response to a devastating oil spill in Santa Barbara, California. This environmental disaster sparked widespread concern and led to the birth of the modern environmental movement. Today, the Earth Day Network continues to carry the torch, organizing worldwide initiatives aimed at promoting sustainable practices, reducing carbon footprints, and protecting natural ecosystems.

In honor of this important day, the pupils of our school took an active role in cleaning the forest in Ostrava. With gloves on and trash bags in hand, they spent the day picking up litter, removing debris, and restoring the natural beauty of the area. This hands-on experience allowed students not only to contribute to the protection of their local environment but also to learn about the importance of conservation and the impact that human activities have on ecosystems. It was a fun and meaningful experience for everyone involved, and the sense of accomplishment from seeing a cleaner forest made the day even more rewarding.

FIRST LOVE

First loves often represent a powerful and unforgettable experience for people—an experience that is fondly remembered but also tinged with nostalgia for the partner. It is a time when one learns how to be loved but also how to love the partner in return. First love can be beautiful and full of hope, but it is not always the case; sometimes it can be painful and lead to disappointment. It is important to recognize that first love is just the beginning, and there are many other opportunities to find love and happiness.

Usually, first loves are not lifelong.
